

The diagram illustrates the layout of a book page. It features a large white rectangular area representing the page content, enclosed by a thin green border. To the left of this area is a vertical dashed black line. To the right of the white area is a vertical solid black line. Further to the right is a vertical solid green line. Three labels with leader lines point to these lines: 'wewnętrzny margines' (inner margin) points to the green border, 'linia cięcia' (cut line) points to the solid black line, and 'linia spadu' (fall line) points to the solid green line.
